"The Light Pole Dancer is not only a cost-saver, as it replaces a boom truck, it is also a real labor-saver. I was surprised how quickly and easily two men were able to take down light poles. I must admit, when I first heard about the Light Pole Dancer, I was skeptical. However, after firsthand experience, I have no second thoughts at all."

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read 'Bill Edler', is written over a light blue rectangular background.
